"Meanwhile many French and Ger-nan adventurers have come forward with schemes and inventions for blowing up the British troops. Some of these have received a tacit permission to experiment. One German invention is for use on the railway, where it lies erfectly concealed until the weight of passing train explodes the charge.

"Gen. Lucas Meyer says surrender would be at once proposed by the Boers out that everybody fears the ignominy of being the one to make the proposition. He declares that he is assured that his men will not stand. President Steyn and Mr. Reitz, the Transvaal state geeretary, are strongly opposed to beace, but Mr. Kruger is not so much against it."

Advices from Mafeking, dated Monday, May 21st, says: "The Boers, who were routed here, rallied a few miles east of Polfontein, well within the British boarder. PITCHED BATTLE PROBABLE. The indications are that a pitched battle is imminent at Laing's Nek, where Gen, Buller faces the Boers, reinforced and seemingly determined, with an estimated strength of from 8,000 to 10,000 men. The reinforcements include a large party from Ladybrand and fresh commandos from Pretoria.

At sunset the garrison seized the standard and diggers' fort and shelled the Boers as they passed.

PLENTY OF WHISKY.

"Darkness was drawing on when Maj. Karri Davis with eight horsemen entered Market square. The town took the relief quietly. A trooper stopped a passerby and sald: 'Hi, we are the relief column.' 'Oh, indeed,' said the citizen, 'we heard you were outside.' and the citizen proceeded on his er rand. 'Well, I'm damned,' said the trooper, but he takes it pretty coolly."
The party dismounted at the staff ffice, where a crowd gathered and heered for the first time in several months. Then the troops in the outer forts cheered. When the relieving colmn marched in at 4 a. m., there was

Time Director General Rathbone was Removed for a Less Wasteful Public Official,

[Early Dispatches.] New York, May 28 .- A special to the

Pribune from Washington says: One interesting and important branch of the Cuban investigation will be that relating to the perquisites enjoyed by the officials and clerks employed there, by virtue of their official and clerical status, and also that relating to miscellaneous expenditures. In the accounts of Director Genera Rathbone, for example, the sum of $17. 331.39 is charged to "per diem." That was the total for the year 1899. This, appears, was not expended in that year for day wages, but "for allowances" or "perquisites" enjoyed, by himself and members of his official and clerical staff, which was a large and very expensive one, resembling in those respects that of a governor of an Indian or an African province, rather than that of a governor of a territory like New Mexico or Oklahoma. It is reported that in addition to his salary $6,500 a year, the director general re rejved a "per diem allowance," amounting to $5, or $1,825 a year, and that the head of each of the ten or elevof the "bureaus," which constitute "department of posts," received similar 'allowance' at the rate of $3 a day. The regular yearly salaries ranged from $2,000 to $3,000. There was also a force of inspectors and clerks who received "per diem allowances" ranging from $1.25 for a $1.200 clerk to 2 or more for inspectors and clerks on the higher grades. There was no exer cise of parsimony in that branch of the director general's official establishment. It is also said that the director general himself enjoyed other large personal "perquisites;" that the large "palace" cupied by him as a residence, in occupied by him as a residence, in which he set up a court rivalling in magnificence and splendor that of the military governor of Havana, was paid out of the postal revenues of Cuba; that expensive alterations and repairs of the "palace" were also paid out of the Cuban revenues. A member of the Senate committee has also been informed that among other large items of formed that among other large items of expenditure charged under the head of "miscellaneous" in the director general's account in the last year was one amounting to $1,300 for upholstering, dry goods, etc., purchased at a single establishment in the United States.

This and many other equally questionable expenditures were borne by the revenues of Cuba. The heading "Miscellaneous" covered a total of $49. "Miscellaneous" covered a total of $49,-544.98; the heading "building and reneading "rent" covered a total of $11,- gregate of $1.3,308.79. Besides these there is a charge of $7,449.73 for "transportation" distinguishing it from "mail" ransportation and "star route service." The amount of $44,703, therefore, was returns issued last Thursday from showing a loss.

To give us a good chance to turn totals, $113,898.79, the grand total will amount to $121,758.51. To this should be added $3,105.26 for "carriage, harness and equipment"—another "perquisite" of the director general—making a loss of loans inside the stock exchange is not likely to be less than five per cent on taining or highly volutilized cases. harness and equipment"—another "per-quisite" of the director general—making an aggregate of $124,863.77. #### CREAT RESERVE INCREASE

English Money Market Relieved by Gold from Russia.

But the Market is Still Bestless and Apprehensive-Dread of Boer Destruction of Mines.

New York, May 28 .- The Times' Lon-

The Russian gold turned the per cent. The Russian gold turned the scale, and since we obtained £1,000,000 from that quarter the India council has released £500,000 of the £1,500,000 lt scale, and since we obtained £1,000,000 his action in view of the circumstances being regarded as justifiable. from that quarter the India council has released £500,000 of the £1,500,000 it locked up here some time ago, to pro-vide for contingencies. Add the notes which have come back from circulation and free disbursements of its borrowed noney by our government, and all is explained.

Will this case continue? It may for a few weeks, perhaps even into July, but the market is restless and apprehensive and therefore liable to frequent happen ings of an unexpected character. Not a single banker in the city looked for the depression now with us. Most expected the bank rate to go up instead of down, and yet here we are fighting to keep discount from sinking to 2½ per cent. Abroad Paris alone has followed our ad, and both bank and open market there now discount at 3 per cent. Float-ing balances, however, are not so cheap nor so plentiful as in London, and quite expect to see credits at five to six per cent at the monthly bourse settlemany money continues to grow dearer, and it is from that quarter that shrewd bankers look for the next pull upon our gold reserve.

Rathbone and his official and clerical way borrowings looming over the market, how is it to be expected that prices can rally and advance? Enterprise and can rany and advance? Enterprise and initiative are alike paralyzed, and your operators may as well give up the hope of persuading us to take a hand with them in manipulating quotations for American railroad shares. Rather let them count on us as sellers of every uch share we still possess on any favorable chance.

And over all stands the dread of what the Boers may do in the war of de-stroying the machinery of the Rand mines. Hitherto the enemy would be retarded by self-interest from taking this step, but since they have been told to expect nothing at our hands, until complete submission has been made, and since our armies have begun their last grand enveloping march from all points of the compass, they have grown des-
